

KEEPING PACE WITH SPORTING EVENTS

EDITED BY TY HETTINGER

ARMY-NOTRE DAME GAME
WILL FEATURE TOMORROW

Westerners' Have Developed Powerful Attack, at Slight Expense of Defensive Play—Critics Make Service Eleven Slight Favorite—Penn State and Colgate Clash on Gridiron for First Time—Brown-Colgate and Cornell-Carnegie Tech. Battles Promise Interest.

Football games of international interest promise to be the feature of Saturday's schedule on Eastern college gridirons. On the Army-Navy game at West Point the Cadets will meet the Notre Dame team of the Middle West, while at New Brunswick, N. J., the Rutgers organization will tackle the powerful Southern team representing West Virginia University. Several other games of almost equal prominence are also down for decision, including the Brown-Colgate, Dartmouth-Penn. State, Cornell-Carnegie Tech. and the Pennsylvania-Lafayette battles.

The probable outcome of these struggles is a matter of wide difference of opinion among close followers of football, each of the competing elements having a number of enthusiastic supporters who consistently predict victory for their favorites. In almost every case these teams are leading representatives of their respective sections with excellent records in the games to date and possessing players of more than ordinary gridiron ability. Although not all of the combinations have reached this level of the season without meeting defeat, their showing, even when outscored, has been such as to stamp them dangerous rivals under any conditions.

East vs. West. This is particularly true of Notre Dame, which faces the unbeaten Army team at West Point tomorrow. The Indiana players held Wisconsin to a no-score tie early in the season; were defeated by the strong University of Nebraska eleven, 7 to 0, a week later and followed this reversal by routing an overwhelming victory against South Dakota last Saturday. As the team has been in the past few years Notre Dame has shown great proficiency in the development and use of the forward pass. In addition to this aerial attack, however, the Western players are well versed in the more prosaic methods of the game and it is not to be expected that the possible development of the offense at the expense of the defense.

While the Soldiers have played more games this fall than their opponents of the morning it is doubtful if the Army has scored eleven of the games that have opposed Notre Dame. West Point, however, possesses a team of unusual strength and possesses this season and with O'Leary, Wickes and possibly Van Deusen in the line-up, the Cadets will present both a solid and exceedingly difficult for Notre Dame to pass through or over for consistent gains.

NAVY TEAM BEATS HARVARD 13 TO 12

Boston, Nov. 2.—The attraction at Southfield Field yesterday afternoon was a scrimmage, lasting an hour, between Lee's First Naval District eleven and the Harvard varsity in football.

The powerful and experienced Navy line of forwards and the clever running backfield, proved too tough a combination for the Harvard eleven and the Navy won, 13-12. Harvard made both of her scores when Coach Leary had removed his first string eleven from the field.

Before 25 minutes of play had elapsed, the Navy had scored two touchdowns. Starting with the ball on its own 40-yard line, the Navy team proceeded to do things without delay. Connell romped around right and left 30 yards and placed the ball on Harvard's 40-yard mark. On this play the Navy players disclosed some beautiful interference and the speedy Dartmouth star, Connell, did the rest.

A forward pass, Murray to Casey, netted five more yards, and an offside penalty on Harvard advanced the ball to the 10-yard line. Tom Enright hit the line three times, and on the last drive won over for the Navy's first score. Enright failed to kick the goal.

This same combination, in possession of the ball, is likely to be a hard one to stop and for that reason it is thought that the Army will have a slight edge on the visitors in the final analysis.

Brown Favorite. Brown's victory over Colgate last week naturally tends to make the Providence team a slight favorite over Syracuse but there appears to be little choice in the playing ability of the two teams. Although defeated by Pittsburgh, the New York State team has won impressive victories from both Rutgers and Tufts and there is no question as to the power and drive of the Orange line and backfield. It is unlikely that Brown can lift her game for the second week in succession, to the point shown against Colgate and the final outcome of the play at Providence tomorrow is likely to hinge upon the so-called breaks of the contest.

The play of West Virginia against Navy, Pittsburgh and Dartmouth stamps the Morgantown team as one of unusual all-round strength and the meeting with Rutgers is certain to develop an exceedingly hard fought gridiron battle. Both Dartmouth and Pittsburgh were able to defeat the Southerners by the margin of a few points but it required the hardest kind of attack and a defense that held firm at all times to accomplish this result. Rutgers must play better football than she has shown in at least two of this season's contests if West Virginia is to be added to the list of opponents defeated.

Back Cornell to Win. In the other more important games of the day Cornell should win from Carnegie Tech. and Dartmouth from Penn. State but only by using the full power of the eleven and holding the opposing teams in check throughout the play. This will be the first time that Penn. State has ever met Dartmouth on the gridiron and the Pennsylvaniaans are anxious to make a strong showing against the Eastern team and will require the closest kind of watching if they are to be defeated.

On the basis of their play against Pittsburgh, the University of Pennsylvania combination should win from Lafayette by a moderate score and the game can be said to be the least outcome of the Colgate-Rochester game. Navy is not expected to be forced to display her full strength to win from Western Reserve and Pittsburgh should triumph over Westminster without much difficulty.

The leading gamblers of the day in the East, together with the scores of last season's matches where the same levens met, are as follows:

Location.	Colleges.	1916 Score.
Baltimore, Pa.	Albright vs. Susquehanna	0 to 21
Baltimore, Pa.	Allegany vs. Thiel	did not meet
Boston, Mass.	Boston Col. vs. R. I. State	38 to 0
Brownwick, Ma.	Bowdoin vs. University of Maine	7 to 7
Providence, R. I.	Brown vs. Syracuse	did not meet
Leedsburg, Pa.	Dartmouth vs. Carnegie Indians	did not meet
New York, N. Y.	Columbia vs. Amherst	did not meet
Edison, N. Y.	Cornell vs. Carnegie Tech.	did not meet
Hanover, N. H.	Dartmouth vs. Penn. State	did not meet
Lawrence, Pa.	Frank & Marsh vs. Haverford	did not meet
Washington, D. C.	Georgetown vs. Eastern	69 to 7
Gettysburg, Pa.	Gettysburg vs. St. John's	did not meet
Troy, N. Y.	Robert vs. Rensselaer Poly.	did not meet
Baltimore, Md.	Johns Hopkins vs. Baltimore	8 to 14
Annapolis, Md.	Lebanon Val. vs. St. Bonaventure	did not meet
Lehigh, Pa.	Lehigh vs. Muhlenberg	3 to 6
Northfield, Vt.	Norwich Univ. vs. Middlebury	7 to 20
Andover, Mass.	Phillips Andover vs. Yale Fresh.	0 to 7
Providence, R. I.	Phillips Exeter vs. Harvard Fresh.	20 to 21
Brownwick, N. J.	Rutgers vs. West Virginia Univ.	0 to 0
Hoboken, N. J.	Servans vs. Worcester Tech.	8 to 0
Camden, N. J.	Union vs. Springfield Y. M. C. A.	did not meet
Washington, D. C.	Maryland State vs. No. Car. A. & M.	did not meet
Annapolis, Md.	Navy vs. Western Reserve	did not meet
West Point, N. Y.	Army vs. Notre Dame	30 to 10
Philadelphia, Pa.	U. of P. vs. Lafayette	10 to 0
Pittsburgh, Pa.	U. of Pittsburgh vs. Westminster	57 to 0
Rochester, N. Y.	Rochester vs. Colgate	6 to 35
Madison, Ct.	Yale vs. Williams	did not meet
Marquette, Pa.	Villanova vs. Ursinus	55 to 6
Washington, D. C.	West. Va. Wesleyan vs. Bethany	65 to 6
Washington, D. C.	Gallaudet vs. Mt. St. Mary's	0 to 3
Medford, Mass.	New Hampshire vs. Tufts	did not meet
New Haven, Conn.	Newport Naval R. vs. Maine Art.	did not meet
Cambridge, Mass.	Camp Devens vs. Boston Navy Yard	did not meet

Then the Informals took the ball and started their attack. With Horrell and Blackard doing most of the work, the Orange players worked the ball from their own 30-yard line to the Navy's 40-yard mark. A couple of penalties on the sailors for offside play put the ball on the 25-yard mark, but here the Harvard backs could gain no more, for the husky Navy forwards broke through and snared players before they got under way. Hoffman then dropped back to try for a field goal, but the kick did not carry through.

Here there was an exchange of punts between Enright and Horrell. With the ball near midfield, the Navy started another drive. Connell opened up with a 20-yard run and was downed on Harvard's 50-yard line. A couple of line plays gained little.

On the next play Murray shot the ball to Casey on the Navy's forward pass. Casey nailed the ball on the run and straight-armed his way for the remaining 20 yards and the second touchdown. Murray kicked the goal.

Coach Leary then sent in his substitute team and the Harvard eleven immediately picked up speed and scored two touchdowns. Lowney was forced to kick from behind his own goal line. In the attempt Woods broke through, blocked the kick and fell on the ball behind the Navy's goal. In the last few minutes of scrimmage Horween, Hoffman and Woods plugged the line and slipped

TO STRENGTHEN
CHAIN CO. TEAM
FOR TITLE GAME

Though followers of the game in this city are viewing with some anxiety the injury to Flanagan and Gormley of the American Chain Co. team, Manager Kearney remains serenely confident with regard to the outcome of Sunday's battle with the Wanderers of Neponset, Mass., for the championship of New England.

He stated this morning that it was more than possible that Flanagan would be in shape to play Sunday, in which case he would have only Gormley to replace. However, to be doubly certain that there will be no point of weakness in his line-up, he will bring two new men here. He was not in a position to announce who they will be, but assured that they would lend strength to the eleven. It is possible that Fjura and Flynn may be put into the line, but of this also, Manager Kearney would state nothing definitely.

Gormley is in rather bad shape, and it is doubtful if he will be able to play again for a few weeks. His knee has gone back on him, and a complete rest is essential. His loss will be keenly felt by the fans, with whom he is a general favorite.

In selecting the Wanderers as the attraction at Newfield park Sunday, Manager Kearney is bringing to Bridgeport the strongest aggregation he can find in New England. As before mentioned in these columns, the only defeat sustained by the Neponset eleven in two years, was a 7-0 reverse at the hands of the Steam Rollers of Providence. The Wanderers, in turn, defeated the Orient Heights team decisively, which aggregation had previously taken the measure of the Steam Rollers, 14 to 7. The team is not well known here, but is rather banking on closing up in Connecticut during the balance of the season.

Among its star players are Bauch, left tackle, who is also captain and a former Tufts man; Davis, guard, a regular at Lehigh for three seasons; Murphy, a former Dartmouth end, and the two Moulton brothers who play at quarterback and fullback. Both have starred at Colby in the past. Other prominent college players have been added to their roster, in a special effort to lift it up to a strength to insure victory Sunday.

ELKS' BOWLING
LEAGUE FORMED

Eight clubs will start in the Elks' bowling league which opens at the club house on State street Monday evening, Nov. 12. On the opening night a banquet will be served the bowlers in the club grill room. Several prizes have been offered for various records. The make-up of the league follows:

Americans: Paython, T. Fasanella, Kiernan, Osborne, Campbell, Capt. Ansh. Yankees: Kelly, Downs, Irwin, Loewith, Dr. Schull, Capt. Bowman. Actors: Smith, Starr, Mathieson, Lynn, Dr. Keith, Capt. Jewett. Batters: McDonough, Dr. Davis, Bellow, Cleary, Grindrod, Capt. McCoy. Bakers: Elliott, Chadwick, Houston, Wilton, Benedict, Capt. Saul. Plumbers: Cox, F. Fasanella, Sullivan, Prendergast, Rose, Capt. Morgan. Avariators: Barnes, Karlstrom, McGuinness, Cowan, Ivers, Capt. O'Donnell. Trench Diggers: J. Musante, Lynch, Carr, Fitzpatrick, Finnegan, Capt. McGauley.

BROWN READY FOR SYRACUSE ELEVEN

Providence, R. I., Nov. 2.—The Brown Bear is now pretty well primed for the Syracuse team, which travels to Providence today. Playing all around the second team yesterday, the Brown varsity scored two touchdowns against the scrubs and generally made themselves look like football players. A couple of graduates, Barry, captain of the 1916 team, and Sleson, centre of the 1916 team which trimmed Yale by 21 to 0, helped out the coaches and instilled some more fighting spirit into the men. Thirty-five men reported in all, and one of the most profitable afternoons of the autumn practice was spent.

Albright, who sustained a broken rib, is declared to play on Saturday, but Shaw, the other member of the damaged pair, is still out of commission. Sinclair is the newest arrival in Brown's hospital berth at tackle. Sinclair strained the ligaments of one foot badly against Colgate and has not yet recovered. Armstrong, who suffered a sprained wrist last Saturday, will probably not be in this week's game for more than a short time.

In spite of the injuries, Coach Robinson is confident that his men will put up a good argument in the game with the Orange. Whether the Bears' football laurels will remain unscathed remains to be seen. Both teams are ready and a good battle is expected by the local men.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1899—George Dixon defeated Will Curley in twenty-five rounds at New York.

1900—Terry McGovern knocked out Joe Bernstein in the seventh round at Louisville.

1900—Joe Choynski won on a foul from Fred Russell in four rounds at Denver.

OVERCOATS CUT TO MEASURE AT 20
FIT, STYLE AND BECOMINGNESS
FAR MORE PLEASING THAN
READYMADE AT SAME PRICE.

If you have been wearing a readymade Overcoat try one this fall Cut to Order at $18 or $20. Its trim, smart, gentlemanly lines will make an undreamed of improvement in your appearance.

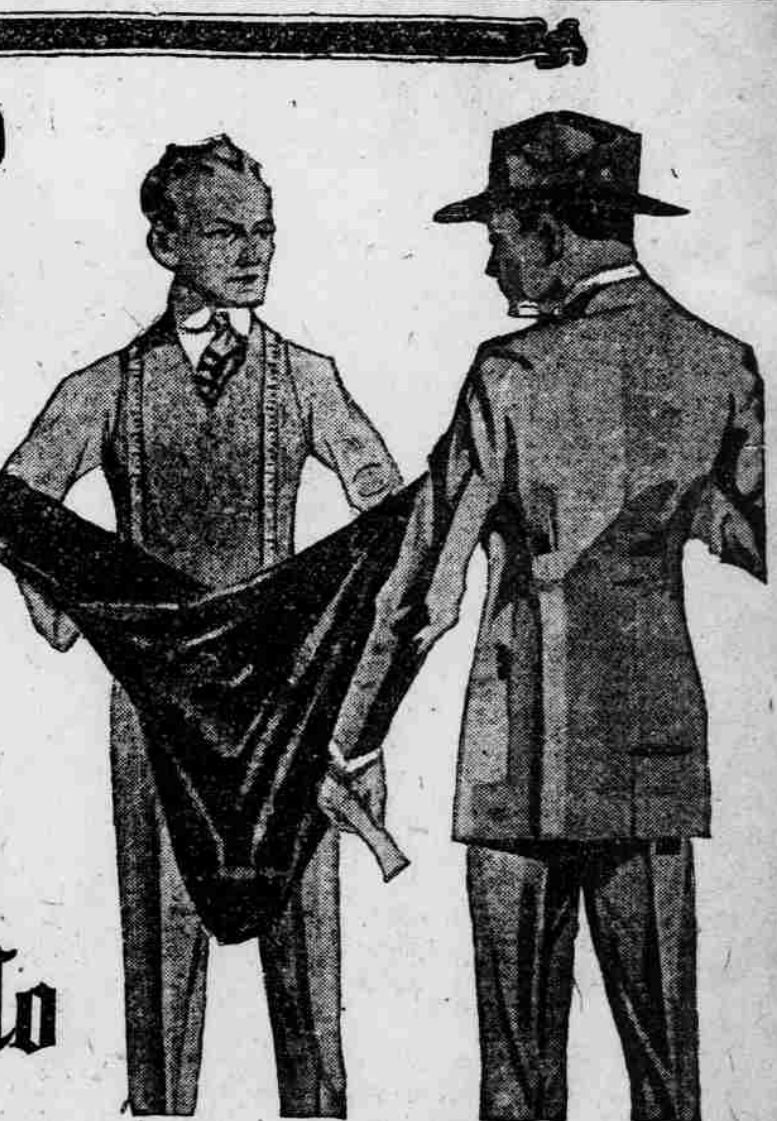

You who have been paying small tailors' high prices will find in garments made by us all the dressiness to which you are accustomed but at a price $10 to $15 lower.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS
$15 $17<sup>50</sup> $20 $25 $28 $32<sup>50</sup>
MADE TO MEASURE

None but pure wool fabrics, thoroughly shrunk and fast dyed, enter our garments—only thoroughly competent tailors may here find employment. English Woolen Mills neglect no precaution to make long wear certain and good appearance permanent.

English Woolen Mills Co

TAILORS AND WOOLEN MERCHANTS
1134 MAIN STREET, NEXT TO DORSEN'S
OPEN EVENINGS

TENER TO STICK
AS PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

Club Owners Are Unanimous in Proffer to Ex-Governor to Retain Office—John Heydler Also Re-elected League Secretary.

New York, Nov. 2.—John K. Tener, for the last five years president of the National League, whose term expires next December, will be re-elected president of the National League at the annual meeting next month without any opposition. In fact, the league is so anxious to have the former Pennsylvania Governor remain in office that it has tendered him an invitation to be a candidate for re-election.

Tener has accepted the invitation to retain his present position, though he has not yet decided for how long. Tener may sign either a two or a five year contract, which ever he prefers. He has been in the league for two years and it is said he rather favors a two year document. The league would rather have him remain in office for another five year period.

The duration of Tener's new contract will be decided upon at the annual meeting of the league here on December 11. John Heydler, secretary-treasurer of the league for many years, also received an invitation to remain in office, which he has accepted.

The National League arrived at its decision to invite Tener to remain in office at the meeting of the board of directors held here shortly after the world's series to consider the suits of Baltimore Federal League directors. All the club presidents were of one mind every effort should be made to induce Tener to remain in office during the perilous days of the great war.

A committee of three, consisting of President Harry Hempstead, of the New York club, President Charles Ebbets of the Brooklyn club and President William Baker of the Philadelphia club called on Tener in his office here last Friday and informed him of the league's urgent request that he remain in office. Tener thanked the committee for its appreciation of his efforts and accepted the invitation.

It had been by no means certain that Tener would continue in office after the expiration of his present five year contract. Last summer it was said Tener would not be a candidate for re-election. At the time Tener was spoken of as a probable successor to Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania, whose term expires this year. Tener was in the United States House of Representatives before becoming governor of Pennsylvania, and has never given up his residence in the Keystone state.

Tener Not to Oppose Messer. While President Tener refused to commit himself in favor of a third major or semi-major league, to be formed by the merger of the American Association and the International League, by his conversation he revealed the fact that he has given the subject considerable thought and will not oppose it.

"Things have been breaking so badly with these two leagues that they are at their wits' end seeking a way to turn," said Tener. "Now, they seem to be of the opinion that if they can appear before their public with claims of playing major league ball it would end a lot of their troubles. Obviously the leagues require some help, but whether they could be in a position to claim a major league rating I have my doubts."

"I think at the time the Federal muddle was on it was pretty well decided that a major league cannot be made over night by simply calling the circuit a major league. To be a real major league the circuit must have major league players, major league territory, major league equipment and be in a position to pay major league salaries."

OVER THE TOP

Be prepared to feel the heavy hand of the war Sunday, when you dig into your jeans for the required admission fee to the Chase-Wanderers gridiron battle at Newfield park. Uncle Sam's war tax is already in effect, and must be paid by the fans. It's 10 per cent. of the admission fee.

Ben Johnson must know more about his service plans than he or the government have announced. Out of Chicago comes the report that E. E. has been measured for a suit of khaki. We thought the last word had rather given out the impression that Uncle Sam had found nothing for the Big Gun of the American league to do.

Welker Cochran, the "Young Loch-in-of the West," is putting up a wonderful game of 18.2 billiards in New York in preparation for his coming match with Howison, the Canadian champion. Yesterday at Doyle's academy he defeated John Ward in the afternoon, 300 to 22, with high runs of 115 and 71, and averaging 73. In the evening he disposed of George Sears, 300 to 23, with high runs of 82 and 79 and an average of 42.6. Verily, a second Hoppe.

Another knockout blow for members of the Winter League. They did their dumbest to get rid of Prexy Tener, and now look at the result. He goes out of office a second time by the overwhelming majority of eight club owners to none, thereby compelling the widespread belief that baseball magnates in conclave resemble a nest of hornets.

However, these are days of peace. Why worry about the argument in Europe when the Reds are no longer clamoring at our doors, so to speak.

In short, I doubt if you can make a major-league by legislation.

"Perhaps the creation of a merged league, with a class AAA rating, with a possibility of future expansion, would be an answer to the enigma."

In Re Barnstorming. Tener does not think the National Commission will take any action against the players who recently participated in a game played in Kansas City between teams calling themselves All Americans and All Nationals. Walter Johnson pitched on the Americans and Grover Alexander on the Nationals. "The commission's ruling against barnstorming was taken to curb abuses," said Tener, "and I do not think it would interfere with players participating in only one game. For instance, we wanted to protect clubs against a pitcher pitching six or eight games after the season, or kindred abuses."

However, it is difficult to see how a commission ruling, if properly enforced, would not apply to one game as much as to six.

CORNELL HAS 3 ON HOSPITAL ROSTER

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Three of Cornell's first string men were unable to participate in yesterday's final game against the Yale team, the largest number of men out with injuries since the season began. C. F. Ackerknecht, left tackle; Neithardt, quarterback, and Pendleton, fullback, are all suffering from minor ailments. The coaches are hopeful that the players will get back in harness by Saturday.

Thomas, a light youngster, ran the team while Schmidt substituted for left tackle and G. Minier was at fullback. The team practiced a great many forward passes, and it looks as if Dr. Sharpe will use aerial football to a greater extent than usual from now on.

ROAMER BEATS
FIELD IN FIRST
PIMLICO STAKE

Andrew Miller's Noted Gelding Gallops Home Victor of $2,000 Arlington Handicap—Defeats Sun Bonnet, Ed Roche and Others.

Pimlico, Md., Nov. 2.—Andrew Miller's true running little gelding Roamer accounted for the Arlington Handicap at one mile and a sixteenth, the feature event of the opening day card at the Pimlico track yesterday.

The track was soft and slow from the recent rains and this caused seven of the original fourteen entrants to be withdrawn. But it was not muddy enough to check Roamer's speed. He waited on Naturalist to the home stretch, where Jockey Schlutinger gave him his head and he won easily by two lengths. A. K. Macomber's noted filly Sunbonnet was second, a length in front of the Brighton Stable's Ed Roche. The race was worth $1,600 net to the winner.

Sea Farer started the form players off on the right road by leading all the way in the first race. Silver Dart, an excellent jumper, led all the way in the steeplechase and won by two lengths from Pussycat. W. R. Coe's Bet slipped and fell when she landed over the jump in front of the clubhouse. She unquestionably would have won had she remained on her feet as she was merely galloping when she came to grief.

A killing was made on Eyelid in the sixth race when the daughter of Eyelid won in a gallop after leading the way from the start to the finish. Eyelid, a homebred filly, is owned by A. L. Astor, of New York. She was backed all over the country. Algonquin Dainfield, assistant secretary of the Jockey Club, said the ban against two-year-olds that raced before April 1 was still in force, and that they would not be permitted to race on Jockey Club tracks before January 1.

Mrs. William Manley, widow of the late president of the Maryland Jockey Club, will donate a gold cup worth $1,000 to the Manley Memorial Steeplechase, worth $10,000, which will be raced for next week.

COLGATE NOT TO PLAY FORDHAM

New York, Nov. 2.—Colgate will be unable to meet Fordham on the Maroon gridiron on Thanksgiving day. The Colgate advisory board telegraphed Manager Delehanty last night that Colgate could not accommodate the locals. The Bronxians have been trying to fill the Thanksgiving date for almost two months. Unless a college team is secured within a few days it is expected that one of the war camp elevens will be invited to come to Fordham Field.

Coach McCafferty gave the squad a hard drill yesterday in preparation for the Georgetown game on election day. The first and second teams engaged in their third scrimmage of the week. The coach gave considerable attention to breaking up the line and the scrimmage was directed toward obtaining interference and an opening for the backs. Brennan, the star full back, is incapacitated with a bruised leg. Crovat, the quarterback, has not been to college for two days, and it is not known whether he has quit the team.

King Alfonso of Spain asked Antonio Maura, former Premier, to forego a new capote.

Forty-two persons were killed by automobiles in the streets of Negro York during October.

FLORAL BOUQUETS
AND DESIGNS.
JOHN RECK & SON.